1/ REGIN and WP3's goals

- Key role of the regions for migrant integration. ... Yet, lack of common frame for policy evaluation of governance system at regional level
- REGIN overall goal = Evidence-based framework for regional policy-making on migrants' integration
- WP3 goal = Building regional indicators for migrants and refugees' integration
 1. Novel and fine-tuned indicators of integration policy and outcomes based on Existing knowledge Literature review
 1. Assessing and comparing REGIN regions (and beyond).
 2. Supporting new and evidence-based actions (links with other WPs)
- What is an indicator?

“Does the region actively promote the integration-related competences of its officials and staff, in administration and public services (e.g. funding/providing internal and external training courses/seminars)?”

YES, systematically/regularly (100) YES, occasionally/on an ad-hoc basis (50) NO, it does not (0)
- Policy indicators & Outcomes indicators

2/ Regional indicators

- Main analytical axes of policy indicators (given comparability constraints)

- Elements of governance

- Actions (within and beyond competences)
- Actors&Relations (multilevel governance perspective)
- Resources

- Stages of the policy cycle

- Policy formulation
- Promulgation
- Implementation
- Evaluation

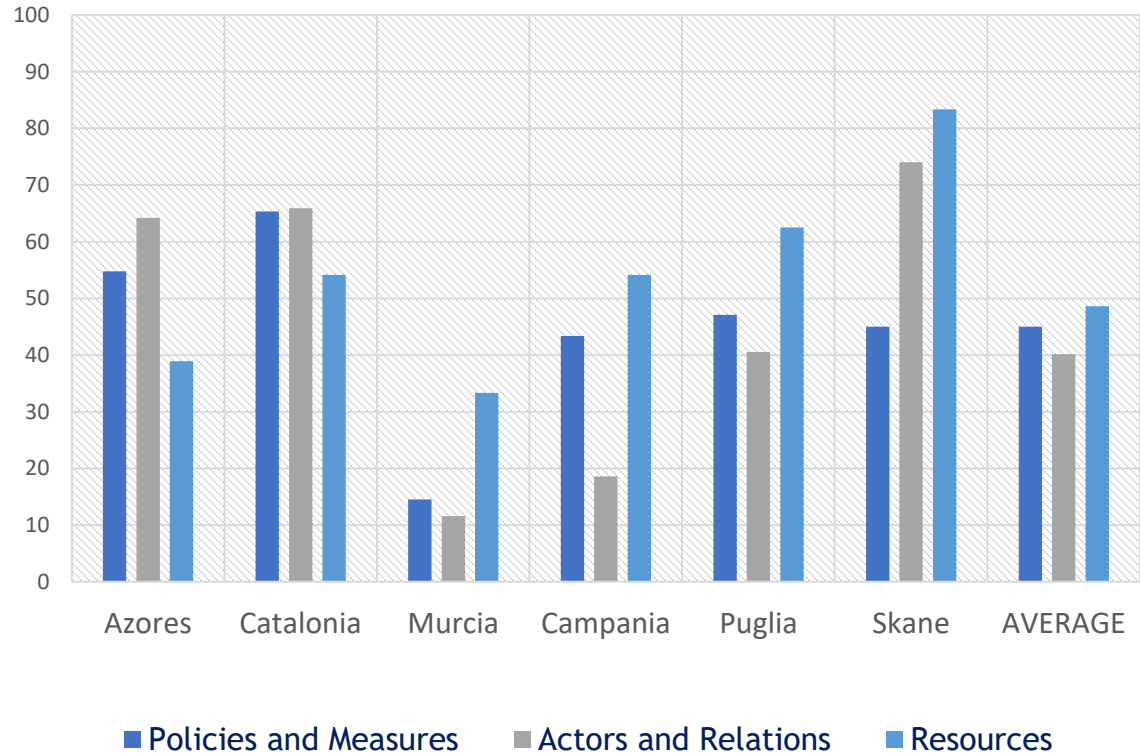

“locating” strengths and weaknesses,
best practices and gaps

- External experts, peer review, independent evaluation

Regional Profile: Região Autónoma dos Açores (Azores), Portugal

MIPEX-R score: 56

Overall score

The Autonomous Region of the Azores' integration policies strongly reflect the migratory profile of the region, with most of the policies directed to the small-sized TCN population, as the region does not present a relevant BIP population. The region has rather well-established policies on migrant integration (56/100). However, the region could greatly benefit from improvements in the development and in particular in the evaluation of these policies. While the region has rather well-developed mechanisms for the inclusion of different actors in the decision-making process, it devotes limited financial resources to migrant integration policies.
